Welcome Message

Dear Colleagues,

It is a great privilege and honour to invite you to come and join us in Varese, Italy, at the 16th Annual Congress of the European Urogynaecological Association (EUGA) on 19-21 October 2023.

We are particularly proud to Co-Chair this year's annual congress and to welcome all EUGA friends and colleagues in Italy after the successful edition held in Milan, in 2018.

Following the pandemic period and despite the current socio-economic uncertainties, EUGA's activities are returning to normality thank to the hard work done by EUGA Committees and members, as well as our commercial partners that have decided to follow and support EUGA projects.

The EUGA scientific committee, chaired by Michele Meschia and C.H. van der Vaart, has created an outstanding scientific programme made of state-of-the-art lectures, debates, open questions, symposia, workshops and abstract sessions which will keep us up-to-date with the latest advances in urogynaecology and with the contribution of renowned European experts.

We therefore look forward to seeing you in Varese to present your researches, participate in scientific debates, mingle with colleagues and friends and have an enjoyable time. Faculty: Abdul H Sultan (Chair), Marta Barba, Yoav Baruch, Matteo Frigerio

AIMS & OBJECTIVES

We are currently facing a trend towards an increasing incidence of third- or fourth-degree perineal tears. Caregivers who are appropriately trained are more likely to provide a consistent, high standard of anal sphincter repair and contribute to reducing the extent of morbidity and litigation associated with anal sphincter injury. The aim of this workshop is to briefly review current guidelines on management of Obstetric Anal Sphincter Injuries (OASIs) and to spend a substantial period of time on the hands-on training of OASIs repair. Audiovisual interaction will be encouraged.

14.30-16.30 WS 2 - Pelvic Floor Ultrasound Workshop

Faculty: Kamil Svabik (Chair), Rosa Maria Laterza, Cristina Ros

AIMS & OBJECTIVES

The workshop aims to present the current state of clinical use of pelvic floor ultrasound in urogynecology. The ultrasound became in many urogynecological units a routine tool in routine diagnostics algorithms. In recent years there was increasing evidence that ultrasound allows the description of the anatomical situation in the majority of urogynecological disorders like prolapse and incontinence. It is a clinical tool to provide and store evidence of preoperative and postoperative patient anatomical status as well as a functional assessment. In postsurgical assessment, it is essential to describe and understand the complications, especially after the implants. There the ultrasound plays an irreplaceable role.

14.30	Basics of pelvic floor ultrasound – including levator trauma	R. Laterza
14.45	Preoperative pelvic floor ultrasound examination	K, Svabik
15.00	Postoperative pelvic floor ultrasound examination	C. Ros

15.30	Live scan and Discussion	All Speakers

14.30-16.30 WS 3 - How to Publish a Medical Article

Faculty: Adi Y. Weintraub (Chair), Shimon Ginath

AIMS & OBJECTIVES

High-quality research is essential for the development of any field of medicine, and this is particularly true for urogynecology and pelvic floor medicine. Reputed medical journals play an important role in disseminating new ideas and results, making them accessible to the wider audience of clinicians. Writing and publishing a manuscript in a renowned medical journal is, therefore, an exciting experience because it represents the outcome of your work and gives you the chance to communicate your research with others. Early career urogynecologists and young researchers face many difficulties in getting their research work published due highly competitive frameworks and lack of appropriate resources and even more so lack of guidance and training in the art of scientific writing. This workshop aims to provide some important information and highlight some useful tips for novice authors which will hopefully minimize negative experiences, increase the chances of publication in standard peer reviewed biomedical journals even those with Impact Factor and even enjoy themselves on the way. Other authors might also find it helpful to know the details related to the publishing process.

14.30	Why should I conduct a research project? How do I choose the right topic for me?	A. Y. Weintraub, S. Ginath
14.45	Basic terms in understanding the process of scientific publication	A. Y. Weintraub, S. Ginath
15.00	How to perform an updated literature review and how to write an introduction? (Presentation and exercise)	A. Y. Weintraub, S. Ginath
15.30	Basic knowledge of research methods. How to describe the research results effectively and interestingly?	A. Y. Weintraub, S. Ginath
15.45	How do you write an intelligent discussion?	A. Y. Weintraub, S. Ginath
16.00	Tips and tricks for success	A. Y. Weintraub, S. Ginath

14.30-16.30 WS 4 - Stress Urinary Incontinence: Imaging, Sexual Function and Advanced Surgical Techniques

14.30-16.30 WS 5 – “Learning Without Thinking Is Wasted Effort. Thinking Without Learning Is Dangerous”. Learning Curves In Urogynaecology

Faculty: Anna Padoa, Maurizio Serati (Chair), Andrea Braga, Tal Fligelman

AIMS & OBJECTIVES

Urogynaecology requires many different skills. In our clinical practice we must be able to adequately perform a clinical assessment, urodynamic studies and pelvic ultrasound, and to carry out surgical interventions with vaginal, laparoscopic, and robotic approaches, with or without the use of mesh. Each of these elements is characterized by a unique and significant learning curve process. The purposes of this workshop are:

1. To overview the evidence on specific learning curves necessary for common clinical, instrumental, and surgical tasks in urogynaecology.
2. To bring forward suggestions on how to implement these learning curves in urogynecologic training programs

14.30	Introduction: Course objectives, clinical and scientific background	A. Padoa - M. Serati

14.30-16.30 WS 6 - The development of a multidisciplinary team in the management of Pelvic Floor Dysfunction in women, in the perinatal period

Faculty: Angie Rantell (Chair), Annika Taithongchai, Ilaria Baini, Silvia Colombo, Donatella Girauda

AIMS & OBJECTIVES

The workshop aims to consider the effectiveness of the multidisciplinary approach in the management of pelvic floor dysfunctions in the perinatal period.

To this end, the data available from the recent literature will be taken into consideration with theoretical and practical demonstrations to highlight the contributions that each professional figure can bring as an individual and as a member of a team. The role of a multiprofessional education and importance of communication within the MDT will be discussed. This workshop will include a combination of theory and practical demonstrations with videos to engage the audiences along with case based discussions and consideration of allied health professional roles in the MDT.
